

UPCOMING US COLLEGE GOLF PRESENTATION

This is your chance to study in the USA!

Have you ever thought about studying in the USA? Do you also play a sport? Or are you involved in performing or visual arts? Do you seek an educational experience that Australia can't provide?

In the USA, you don't have to choose between these pathways, you can actually have it all at once! At Green Room Futures, we specialize in pairing aspiring students and student-athletes of any kind with complimentary institutions all across the United States, while also providing mentorship and life coaching to help you achieve anything and everything you desire!

Do you want to study Business Management and play College Golf somewhere in California?

Do you want to study Engineering and be involved in the performing arts in New York?

Are you unsure of what you want to do, but love the idea of traveling and experiencing college life in the USA?

Whatever your dreams and aspirations may be, we are here to help put you on course to achieve them! The United States is genuinely the "Land of Opportunity," where your desires and preferences actually matter!

IN THE USA, DID YOU KNOW?

- ✓ You can study exactly what you want to study after high school, irrespective of your high school grades, having an ATAR score, or taking particular subjects in high school!
- ✓ You do not need to be an elite athlete, or an elite student in any way to be able to study and receive scholarships from Colleges and Universities in the USA! There are varying levels of competition and academics that compliment EVERY kind of aspiring young adult.
- ✓ There are over 4,500 different Colleges and Universities scattered across the USA? Compare that to only 43 in Australia. Quick math... That's 100x the number of available opportunities to aspiring young people!
- ✓ Families are spending, on average, $10-15,000 USD per annum for their tuition and fees, their accommodation on campus for the year, as well as all their meals for the year while attending Uni? Compare that to the average of $20,000 AUD per annum in university tuition alone!
- ✓ There are over 1 million international students studying in the USA every year! There is a reason for this...

Will you be NEXT??

This is an incredible opportunity to live abroad and experience a new country with a thriving culture for young adults! You'll gain maturity and independence, form new relationships and make memories with people from all over the world, get a world class education that will last forever and can be taken anywhere, and have an overall life experience that can't be matched anywhere else!
